MISSOURI LAW PROFESSOR
TO SPEAK AT U OF MONTANA

MISSOULA --

A Missouri law professor will discuss "Environmental Law" Wednesday (Oct. 14) at the University of Montana.

James W. Jeans, a law professor at the University of Missouri, Kansas City, will present his lecture beginning at 7:30 p.m. in room 215 of the Women's Center on the Missoula campus.

The lecture, which is open to the public without charge, is second in a series of 10 lectures scheduled this fall under a $49,550 grant from the National Science Foundation. The Western Montana Scientists' Committee for Public Information is in charge of local arrangements.

Jeans has served as chairman of the section on environmental law for the American Trial Lawyers Association. He also directed a seminar on expert witnesses for scientific members of the National Air Pollution Control Administration.
